This report brings to the Cabinet a report which contains findings and recommendations of the scrutiny task group's investigation into how to manage a successful transition to Individual Electoral Registration (IER). The IER system went live in July 2014 and is expected to fully supplant the current Household Electoral Registration system on 1st December 2015 with the aim of making the process of registration more convenient and secure.

Date of the next meeting: Monday 16 March 2015

Appendix A – Registration Requirements

In order to register, an individual would normally need to provide the following primary document, including:

- National Insurance number;
- Date of Birth; and
- Current address.

If a resident does not have a fixed address they can still register using a temporary address by making a 'declaration of a local connection' at a local electoral office. If an individual does not know their date-of-birth then they can provide an approximate age.

If a resident does not have an NI number when registering through IER, the Electoral Services team may contact them to prove their eligibility to vote. The types and quantities of documents required to successfully establish an applicant's identity are as follows:

Documents which may be used in place of an NI number to prove eligibility

Route 1: Applicants may provide any ONE document from table 1 to establish their identity

Route 2: Applicants who cannot provide any documents from table 1 can provide ONE document from table 2 and TWO additional documents from either table 2 or table 3 to establish their identity

Route 3: Applicants who cannot provide any documents from tables 1 or 2 can provide FOUR or more documents from table 3 to establish their identity.

Appendix B – Public Engagement Strategy

INDIVIDUAL ELECTORAL REGISTRATION PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT STRATEGY

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 Individual electoral registration, which comes into effect in June 2014 when local authorities will begin confirmation data matching, has been described as the biggest change to the process of electoral registration for over 100 years. While it is a major change for electoral services staff, a major part of the challenge will be to inform the public of what changes are taking place and what they must do in order to register to vote or remain registered to vote.
- 1.2 This strategy identifies the means by which the necessary messages will be conveyed and in particular what approaches will be adopted for those groups who are known to be less likely to be registered.

2.0 Confirmation Dry Run

- 2.1 Brent's registration data was matched against the Department of Work and Pensions database in July 2013. Overall 67.6% of the electors in the register were successfully matched. This was just under the London average of 68% where matching rates ranged from 46.9% to 83.3%.
- 2.2 There was a wide variation in the results in Brent's individual wards. The highest match (79%) occurred in Kenton ward while the lowest (56%) was in Mapesbury and Willesden Green wards.

Alperton	70%
Barnhill	71%
Brondesbury Park	61%
Dollis Hill	74%
Dudden Hill	68%
Fryent	73%
Harlesden	62%
Kensal Green	61%
Kenton	79%
Kilburn	58%
Mapesbury	56%
Northwick Park	70%
Preston	72%
Queen's Park	62%
Queensbury	76%
Stonebridge	73%
Sudbury	69%
Tokington	68%
Welsh Harp	74%
Wembley Central	67%

Willesden Green 56%

- 2.3 The 2011 census results present wide-ranging data about the nature of the wards in Brent which may help to explain differing confirmation rates and inform the strategy for publicising IER to those residents who were not successfully matched. The results of the 2011 census show that Kenton ward has the highest proportion of owner occupation and the largest percentage of people aged over 65. 58% of the population described themselves as of Asian origin and 30% as white. Both Mapesbury and Willesden Green wards on the other hand had a much smaller percentage of over 65s and owner occupation. Additionally there were a larger number of one person households in these two wards.
- 2.4 The outcome of the dry run in each ward mirrors the response rate in the canvass. Harlesden is consistently one of the lowest responding wards and in 2012 was the lowest despite having improved on previous years. Mapesbury has become the next poorest responding ward and showed a drop in the response rate in 2012 from the previous year. Kensal Green, Kilburn and Willesden Green are consistently amongst the lowest responding wards but have all showed significant improvement over the last few years. Queens Park is another low responding ward which has shown a slight improvement over the last few years. Brondesbury Park fell below the borough average for the canvass last year for the first time.
- 2.5 A breakdown of census results for each ward is set out in Appendix A.
- 2.6 One factor emerging from the dry run that is likely to give rise to confusion among the electorate is the degree to which electors in the same household had varying results in the data matching.

Green and red matches	19,783 (17%)
Green and amber matches	2,816 (2.5%)
Red and amber matches	1,923 (1.7%)
Green, red and amber matches	1,368 (1.2%)

These results are likely to create a number of calls to the Council seeking an explanation and staff will need to be trained and prepared to respond to queries when they occur.

3.0 Demographic Characteristics of the Borough

- 3.1 The 2011 census results demonstrate that Brent is a highly diverse borough. Less than half (45%) of the borough's residents were born in the United Kingdom, the smallest percentage in London. More than 10% of the population were born in the European Union, a slightly smaller number in Africa and 20% in the Middle East and Asia. Nonetheless almost a third of the population has been resident in the United Kingdom for more than 10 years, which is the highest proportion in England and Wales. Fuller information on the social composition of the borough can be seen at <https://intelligencehub.brent.gov.uk>

3.2 As shown above, those wards that had a lower than average match rate also have a lower than average response rate to the annual canvass. The wards in question are:

Brondesbury Park
Harlesden
Kensal Green
Kilburn
Mapesbury
Queens Park
Willesden Green

With the exception of Brondesbury Park which featured amongst the lowest responding wards for the canvass last year for the first time, not surprisingly all these wards have some common characteristics:

- Higher than borough average levels of deprivation
- Significant black and/or Asian communities with Harlesden having a black and Asian majority
- Significant muslim communities
- High number of single person households
- High rented sector, both private and public

4.0 Public Engagement

4.1 The racial composition of the borough alone suggests that a varied strategy will be required in order to convey the appropriate messages about IER to the local community. In addition, other groups in society are known to be less likely to be included in the electoral register – the 18-24 age group, those living in rented accommodation and frequent movers. People in these categories are less likely to achieve a positive data match and to this group can be added those who are living in residential institutions such as homes for elderly people or hostels for people with disabilities. Elderly people who are normally registered to vote may also be challenged by the new arrangements replacing a system to which they have long been accustomed.

4.2 Messages about IER will need to be delivered to the following groups

- The whole population
- The whole electorate
- Those electors who are positively matched with the DWP in 2014
- Those electors who do not positively match
- Residents who are not currently registered to vote

4.3 In order to deliver these messages, the Electoral Services team will rely on the help of partners inside and outside the local authority.

- The Electoral Commission who will be producing templates for use by local authorities and carrying out a nationwide campaign which the Council will accompany with its own publicity
- Council Communications team for design of materials, assistance and guidance on publicity

- Council Consultation team for its network of local community groups and access to local authority forums
- Council Children and Families department for data on school 6th form students
- Brent Housing Partnership for information houses in multiple occupation and register of landlords
- Council Customer Services
- University of Westminster accommodation managers
- Victoria Hall of Residence accommodation managers
- Northwick Park Hospital residential accommodation managers
- Secondary schools
- Local NUS offices
- Local media
- Council canvassers

5.0 Evaluation of Strategy

5.1 The clearest sign of success for the strategy is the number of electors included in the electoral register remaining at previous years' levels. An additional criterion will be the extent of reach achieved by the various components of the strategy. The number of properly completed and incomplete Household Enquiry Forms and Invitations to Register returned during the canvass will also be monitored.

The open register

There are two registers. Why?

Using information received from the public, registration officers keep two registers – the electoral register and the open register (also known as the edited register).

The electoral register

The electoral register lists the names and addresses of everyone who is registered to vote in public elections. The register is used for electoral purposes, such as making sure only eligible people can vote. It is also used for other limited purposes specified in law, such as:

- detecting crime (e.g. fraud)
- calling people for jury service
- checking credit applications.

The open register

The open register is an extract of the electoral register, but is not used for elections. It can be bought by any person, company or organisation. For example, it is used by businesses and charities to confirm name and address details.

Your name and address will be included in the open register unless you ask for them to be removed. Removing your details from the open register does not affect your right to vote.

You can find more information about both registers and how they may be used at www.gov.uk/register-to-vote.

Your personal information

We will only use the information you give us for electoral purposes. We will look after personal information securely and we will follow the Data Protection Act 1998. We will not give personal information about you and the other people in your household to anyone else or another organisation unless we have to by law.

HOW DO I REGISTER?

Registering to vote is straightforward.

- 1 Go to www.gov.uk/register-to-vote
- 2 Fill in your name, address, date of birth and a few other details. You'll also need your National Insurance number, which can be found on your National Insurance card, or in official paperwork such as payslips, or letters about benefits or tax credits.
- 3 Look out for confirmation from your local electoral registration staff to say you're registered.

If you don't have access to the internet or can't use it, your local electoral registration staff will be able to help you to register.

ABOUT VOTER REGISTRATION

You need to register in order to be able to vote in elections and referendums. The way you register to vote has changed in 2014.

The new system means:

- You can now register online.
- Everyone has become responsible for registering themselves. Under the old system the 'head of every household' could register everyone who lived at their address.
- You need to provide a few more details to register – including your National Insurance number and date of birth. This is to make the electoral register more secure.

WHY SHOULD I REGISTER?

To vote: You need to register in order to be able to vote. If you aren't registered to vote, you won't have the chance to have a say on who represents you.

Some people also register to vote because they want to apply for credit. This is because credit reference agencies use the register to confirm where someone lives when they apply for credit in order to counteract fraud.

BUT I THOUGHT I WAS ALREADY REGISTERED TO VOTE?

If you have registered yourself at your current address since 10 June 2014 in England and Wales or 19 September 2014 in Scotland – and you have not moved home since – you will be registered to vote under the new system.

You will also be registered to vote if you received information at your current address telling you that you are registered under the new system. If you are unsure whether you are registered under the new system, contact your local electoral registration staff.

WHAT IF I DON'T REGISTER?

Not only will you not have a say at future elections and referendums, but if you don't respond to requests for information from your local electoral registration staff offices you could be at risk of getting fined £80.

The registration system has changed and even if you were registered in the past you may need to register again now.
