I live in Willesden with my family and over the years, the quality of shops and businesses has got worse. There are too many gambling facilities in this area and from what I see in the community, there is not a lot of wealth around here. Having a gambling centre sends the wrong impression to the youth around Willesden and Brent. Gambling is an addictive activity and people can lose a lot from it. It would be more helpful having a careers and youth centre there instead.
