

26-04-26

The high street in Willesden green is already saturated with gaming businesses, adding another with help to create a cluster. This will drive anti social behaviour and reduce the interest of other businesses in setting up. The High street and station (less than 5 minutes walk away) has a considerable problem with street crime and anti social behaviour which more gaming shops will exacerbate.