

14-05-26

The last thing Kilburn High Road is yet another gambling facility, especially in a cost of living crisis and when our youngsters are already in dire need of third spaces. Allowing another bingo hall is predatory, anti-social, and utterly amoral. As a single woman living down the road, I don't want my street to be blighted by such an institution, and I am concerned for the families in the area.