

There is currently a major problem in the Honeypot Lane/Queensbury Station area with antisocial behaviour due to large groups of people congregating and drinking around gathering places in the area, quite often though to quite late at night. The last thing this area needs is more retail of alcohol during the evening hours.