RE: Jackman's Off licence premises licence review.

13 AUG 2019

Dear Sir or Madam,

We are along established church based in Neasden Lane. Our followers come from the surrounding neighbourhood and we hold masses every Wednesday and Sunday. Our worshippers are regular customers to Jackman's.

On the notice posted outside Jackman's the council solely blaming the establishment for all the disorderly acts and crimes in this area. This area historically been an area with high crime rate and the crime rate has been steadily growing year after year for the last ten years. This has been due to the cuts to police and cuts to mental health. In the time of austerity homeless and the streets have become less safe.

As a neighbours and a organisation with social responsibility we believe the council in this case the council missed the larger issue in this local area and targeting a small business which may destroy the livelihood of hardworking refugees who have corroborated the fact hard work and determination will pay off.

Finally, I firmly disagree with council decision to consider revoking Jackman's Off licence and the preventing Jackman's from selling will not a lasting solution to the issues highlighted on the notice and It will only destroy a small business and families.

Yours Sincerely.
